In accordance with the Russian legislation in order to visit Russia you should have the following documents:

The passport expiry date must be later than the date of your departure from Russia plus 3 extra months minimum.

2. Visa.

To come to Russia you need to draw a visa at a Russian consulate in your country. In order to draw a visa in a Russian Embassy or Consulate in your country you should have an official invitation.

The ISC-2010 Organizing Committee in the person of the St. Petersburg State University of Aerospace Instrumentation (SUAI) will assist you and provide the official invitation.

We need your request and personal data to do it.

Please submit to the SUAI your completed registration form and the copy of the page of your passport with the following information: passport number, photo, date of issue and expiry, and your full name.

Please take into account that it takes some time to draw your official invitation. For some countries it takes less time and the deadline for the official invitation request is May 3, 2010. The countries are: Austria Belgium Bulgaria Czech Cyprus Germany Estonia Finland France Greece Hungary Italy Latvia Luxembourg Malta Netherlands Poland Portugal Romania Slovakia Slovenia Spain Sweden.

For all other countries it takes more time and the deadline for the official invitation request is April 5, 2010.

As soon as the invitation will be ready, the SUAI will send it to you by an express mail so you could apply to the Russian Embassy or Consulate in your country for visa. With the stated deadlines you'll have enough time to get your visa in a regular way.

3. Migration card. The migration card form will be given to you in the airplane or at the airport on arrival. Please fill it in and keep it with you. You will need it on arrival for registration.
